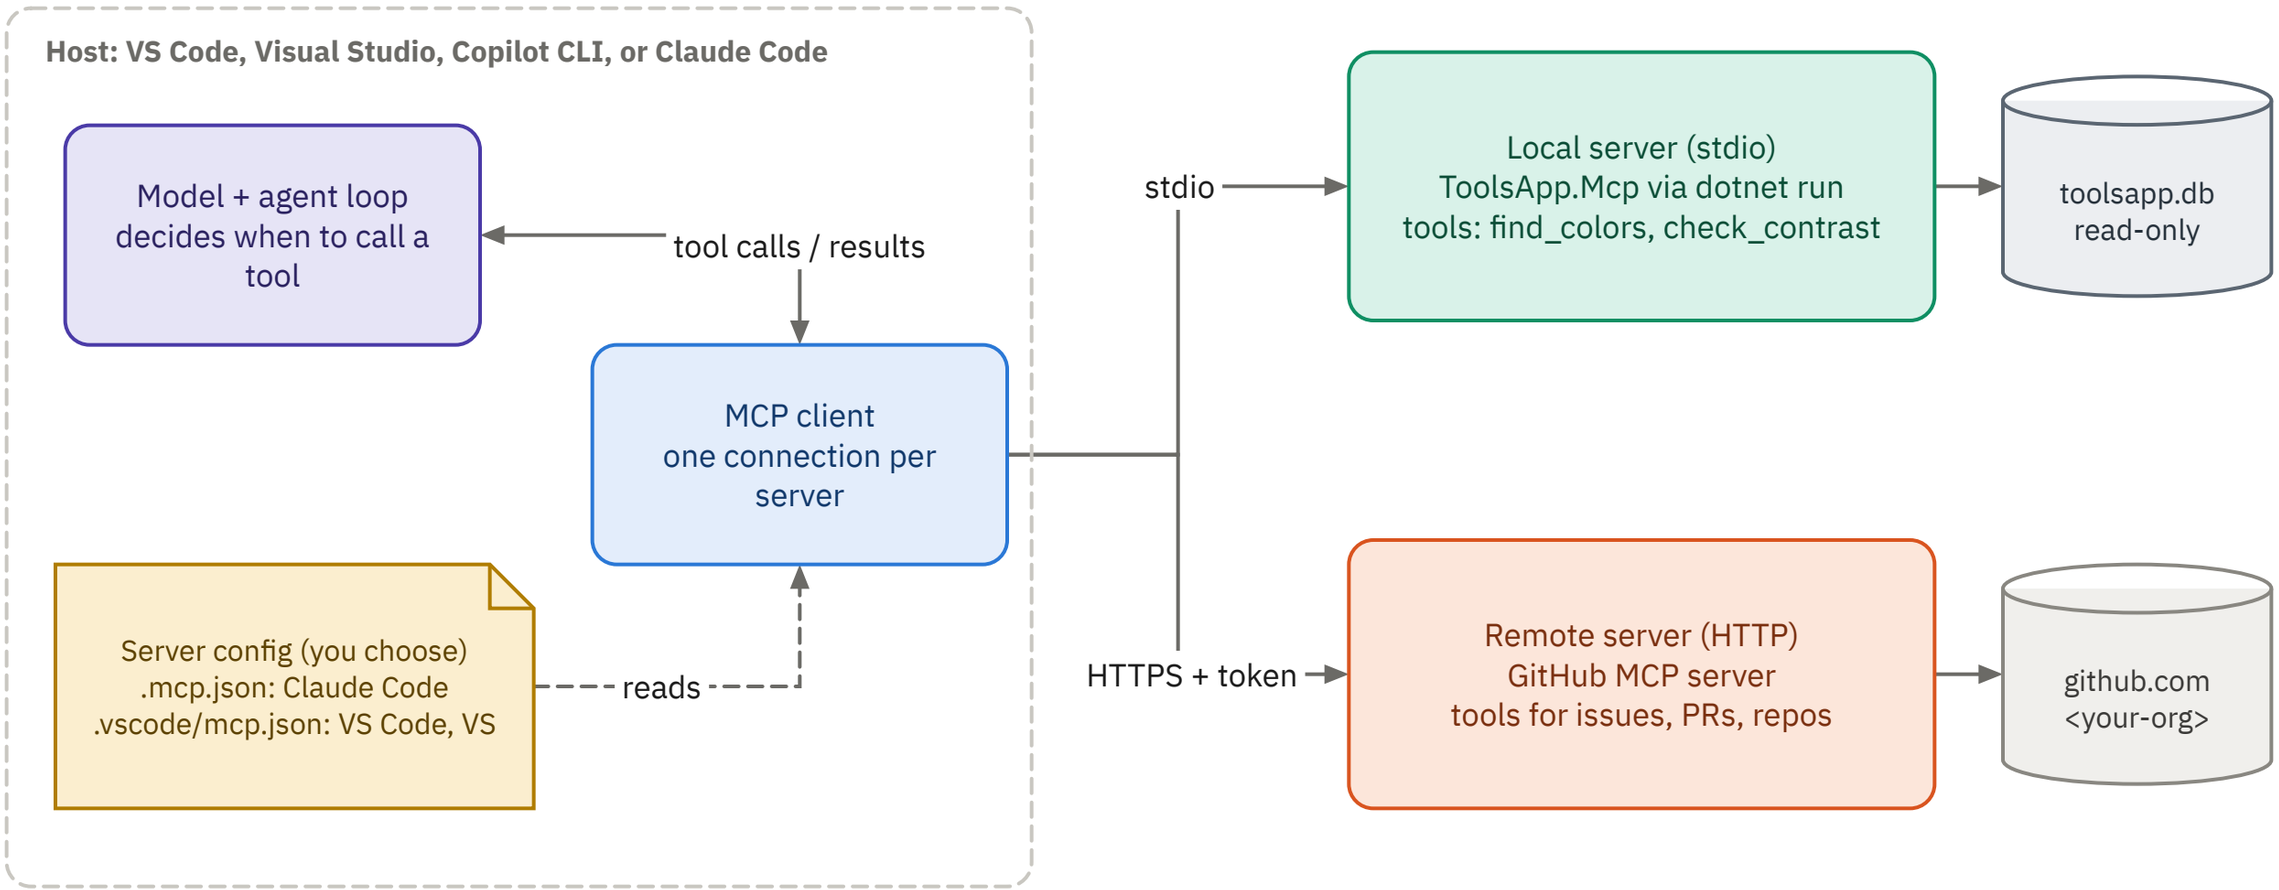
MCP: Connecting Agents to Your Tools and Data

The host runs one MCP client per server; each server exposes tools and resources over JSON-RPC



The agent decides when to call a tool; you decide which servers it may use, which of their tools are on, and what each server can reach